

one-act comedy "Twilight." It was Mrs. Whiffen who was the original "Little Buttercup" in "H. M. S. Pinafore" in America. She has supported Ethel Barrymore, John Drew and scores of others equally famous and was featured in "The Beautiful Adventure." When Mme. Sarah Bernhardt appeared at the Palace Theatre which is the Orpheum of New York, it was Mrs. Whiffen who made a presentation speech. She spoke in French, and the Divine Sarah returned thanks in English.

BRIANT YOUNG WINS

The prize offered by the Ernest Wilkes stock company for the best play written by anyone locally was awarded to Bryant S. Young for his political drama, "The Master of Man." Nearly thirty manuscripts were carefully read and many of them contained much dramatic and literature merit, but with the rules carefully considered, Mr. Young's drama came nearest to meeting the requirements though honorable mention was given to half a dozen other aspirants for fame as playwrights. The play will be produced at the Empress early in January.

THE PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

It was a most encouraging audience that attended the concert given by the Philharmonic orchestra at the Salt Lake theatre on Sunday last and everyone present was generously rewarded, for the music under the direction of Arthur Freber was the best ever heard by a symphony orchestra in this city. There should be standing room only every time it is announced that they will give a concert, and if the interest continues as it has begun, that condition will probably prevail in the future.

"TWIN BEDS"

The first local presentation of "Twin Beds," the laugh festival by Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo which New York honored by laughing at it for fifty-two consecutive weeks, will be the attraction at the Salt Lake theatre for three nights starting Monday, December 27th. It will be presented by Selwyn and Company.
